The weekend will commence with a series of drawings to help the student understand the anatomy and proportion of the human head, then a series of small paintings will be undertaken, that looks at various ways of painting a portrait, ranging from paintings that use line and flat colour to the use of tone, light and modelling .

On the second day one of these techniques will be chosen and a large portrait will be undertaken.

A series of portraits painted by a range of artists will be shown and discussed to give the student an idea of the various approaches artists have used to paint the portrait. These artists will include Brian Dunlop, Giacometti, Andrew Wyeth, Egon Scheile & John Rigby.

The class will have a maximum number of 8 students and the cost will be $165. Once an enrolment form has been received a material list will be forwarded to the student.
